Question: Can I keep my number and join win?

Answer: You can keep your current number and subscribe to a win plan.

If you are an inwi customer: Just enter and validate the number you want to keep when you first subscribe. The transfer of your inwi number to win will be done automatically after activating your SIM and signing the transfer mandate. If you are a customer of another operator: Before starting the portability procedure, make sure that your line is still active and that it is not terminated. The portability request to win is made during your first subscription. You can follow the progress of your request on your dashboard. You will also receive email and push app notifications to track your portability. The transfer time from your number to win is 1 working day . Question: Why was my portability request denied?

Answer: During the portability process, there are times when the request is denied. Your line is canceled at your operator:

When you want to make a portability request, make sure your line is still active.

The termination of your line is done automatically at the source operator after validation of your portability. If your portability has been refused due to the reason "Line terminated" while your line is still active, please contact our advisers to help you.

The data you entered when you requested portability do not match your data with the source operator:

In order to avoid any possible portability delay, make sure when subscribing that the information you provide is correct and complies with the data on the source operator's contract.
